

Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting our website. In the following we inform you which data Lycan Chain (hereinafter referred to using the pronoun “we”) collects and processes, and for which purposes, when you use our website.

1. Contact Person

The point of contact and the controller for the processing of your personal data when visiting this website within the meaning of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) is

Lycan Foundation
Liberland

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us. You are also welcome to direct your data protection concerns to our data protection team by sending an email to legal@lycanchain.com or writing to the postal address above (please mark all correspondence with: “Data Protection Inquiry”).

2. Data processing when visiting our website

(1) Visiting our website

Every time you use our website, we collect the access data automatically transmitted by your browser in order to make visiting the website possible. This access data includes in particular:

- date and time of access
- name of the file requested
- website from which the file was requested
- access status (e.g. file transferred, file not found)
- your web browser and your device’s operating system
- the IP address of the requesting device
- online identifiers (e.g. device IDs, session IDs).

It is necessary to process this access data to make it possible to visit the website and to guarantee the long-term functionality and security of our systems. The legal basis for this is Art. 6 para 1 b) GDPR. For data protection reasons, we do not permanently store or analyse log files.

(2) Contact Form

Whenever We offer you the opportunity to send us messages directly by means of a contact form. This requires you to provide contact details where we can contact you. We also ask for your name so that we can address you. We process the data you provide in the contact form in order to respond to your enquiry. The legal basis for the data processing of the mandatory fields is Art. 6 para 1 b) GDPR and for any further provided information Art. 6 para 1 f) GDPR. The data collected when you use the contact form will be automatically deleted once we have finished processing your enquiry, unless we still require your enquiry to fulfil contractual or legal obligations.

3. Cookies

For some of our services it is necessary that we use so-called cookies. A cookie is a small text file that is stored by the browser on your device. Cookies are not used to run programs or download viruses onto your computer. The main purpose of our cookies is to provide you with a customized offer and to make the use of our services as effective as possible.

Most browsers are set to accept cookies by default. However, you can adjust your browser settings so that cookies are rejected or stored only after prior consent. If they reject, not all of our offers can function for them without interference.

The legal basis for the processing of your personal data in the context of the so-called “necessary cookies” is Art. 6 para. 1 b) GDPR.

4. Third party cookies

We use cookies for marketing, tracking and analyzing purposes. The legal base for such a processing is your consent, Art. 6 para. 1 a) GDPR.

In details, we use following tools:

- We use cookies only to provide referral ID chosen by user to visit the website

5. Disclosure of data

In principle, we will only disclose the data we collect if:

- you have given your explicit consent pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 a) GDPR;
- disclosure is necessary pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 f) GDPR in order to establish, exercise or defend legal claims and there is no reason to assume that you have an overriding legitimate interest in your data not being disclosed;
- we are legally obliged to do so under Art. 6 para. 1 c) GDPR;
- this is legally permissible and required according to Art. 6 para. 1 b) GDPR for the processing or initiation of contractual relationships with you; or
- in connection with an official request, court orders and legal proceedings disclosure is necessary to pursue or enforce rights.

Part of the data processing may be carried out by our service providers. This may include data centers that store our website and databases, IT service providers that maintain our systems, and consulting firms. If we pass data on to our service providers, they may use the data exclusively for the fulfilment of their tasks. We have carefully selected and commissioned the service providers. They are contractually bound by our instructions, have appropriate technical and organizational measures in place to protect the rights of data subjects and are carefully monitored by us.

6. Data transfer to third countries

There is no data transfer to a third country.

7. Storage period

We only store personal data for as long as necessary to fulfill contractual or legal obligations for which we have collected the data. We then delete the data without delay, unless we still require the data until the end of the statutory limitation period for evidence purposes for claims under civil law or due to statutory retention obligations. For evidence purposes, we must keep contract data for another three years after the end of the year in which the business relationship with you ends. After the standard statutory period of limitation, any claims become statute-barred at this point in time at the earliest.

Even after that, we are still required to store some of your data for accounting reasons. We are obliged to do so due to statutory documentation obligations, which may arise on the basis of national/common law. The periods specified there for retaining documents range from two to ten years.

8. Your rights relating the GDPR

- (1) You have the right of information about how we process your personal data at any time. When providing this information, we will explain the data processing to you and provide you with an overview of the data stored about you.
- (2) If data stored by us is incorrect or no longer up to date, you have the right to have this data corrected.
- (3) You may also demand that your data be erased. Should the erasure not be possible in exceptional cases due to other legal regulations, the data will be blocked so that it is only available for that legal purpose.
- (4) You are also entitled to have the processing of your data restricted, e.g. if you believe that the data we have stored is incorrect. You also have the right to data portability, which means that on request we will send you a digital copy of the personal data you have provided.
- (5) Pursuant to Art. 7 para. 3 GDPR, you have the right to withdraw the consent you gave us at any time. As a result of this, we will cease the data processing based on this consent with future effect. This withdrawal of your consent will not affect the lawfulness of the processing carried out on the basis of the consent prior to the withdrawal.
- (6) If we process your data on the basis of legitimate interests pursuant to Art. 6 para. 1 f) GDPR, you have the right under Art. 21 GDPR to object to the processing of your data, and to give us reasons which arise from your particular situation which, in your opinion, show that your legitimate interests override ours. If your objection is to data processing for direct marketing purposes, you have a general right of objection, which we will implement without requiring you to give reasons.

In order to assert your rights described here, you can contact us at any time using the contact details provided in Section 1 above. This also applies if you wish to receive copies of safeguards in order to prove an adequate level of data protection. If you would like to make use of your right of withdrawal or objection, it is sufficient to simply notify us using the contact details provided above as well.

In addition, you have the right to object to data processing if it occurs based on Art. 6 para. 1 e) or f) GDPR or for direct marketing purposes. Finally, you have the right to lodge a complaint with our competent data protection supervisory authority. You can assert this right by contacting any supervisory authority in the Member State of the European Economic Area. The competent supervisory authority is

Office of the Federal Data Protection and Information Commissioner FDPIC
Feldeggweg 1
CH - 3003 Berne

9. Data security

We will take commercially reasonable precautions to protect Personal Data from loss, misuse and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and destruction. We process all Information using industry-standard techniques. However, we do not guarantee or warrant that such techniques will prevent unauthorized access to Information, including Personal Data that we store.
